What to expect

1 We review your report

Our specialists in the Civil Rights Division carefully read every report to identify civil rights violations, spot trends, and determine if we have authority to help with your report.

2 Our specialists determine the next step

We may decide to:
Open an investigation or take some other action within the legal authority of the Justice Department.
Collect more information before we can look into your report.
Recommend another government agency that can properly look into your report. If so, we'll let you know.

In some cases, we may determine that we don't have legal authority to handle your report and will recommend that you seek help from a private lawyer or local legal aid organization.

3 When possible, we will follow up with you

We do our best to let you know about the outcome of our review. However, we may not always be able to provide you with updates because:
We're actively working on an investigation or case related to your report.
We're receiving and actively reviewing many requests at the same time.

If we are able to respond, we will contact you using the contact information you provided in this report. Depending on the type of report, response times can vary. If you need to reach us about your report, please refer to your report number when contacting us. This is how we keep track of your submission.

What you can do next

1 Contact local legal aid organizations or a lawyer if you haven't already

Legal aid offices or members of lawyer associations in your state may be able to help you with your issue.
Legal Services Corporation (or Legal Aid Offices), to help you find a legal aid lawyer in your area visit www.lsc.gov/find-legal-aid

2 Get help immediately if you are in danger

If you reported an incident where you or someone else has experienced or is still experiencing physical harm or violence, or are in immediate danger, please call 911 and contact the police.

Personal description

In your own words, describe what happened

Elvis Nuno, a professional telecommunications and IT technology, experienced a sustained campaign of harassment and deprivation of civil rights in Missoula, Montana. Over eleven years, I have faced coordinated targeting and retaliation by local law enforcement and associated agencies.
Description of What Happened
Beginning in 2014 and continuing to the present, I have been subjected to systemic abuse and harassment orchestrated primarily by the Missoula Police Department, with involvement from the YWCA of Missoula, Missoula County Prosecutors Office, and supported by failures from the Montana POST Council.
This includes unlawful surveillance, fabrication and suppression of evidence, intimidation of witnesses, and deliberate denial of procedural and constitutional rights. Multiple attempts to raise these issues through proper channels resulted in immediate dismissal or obstruction, notably by POST, which refused to review ongoing misconduct based on an arbitrary time limitation, despite clear evidence of present-day violations.
The YWCA of Missoula facilitated and promoted defamation and unsubstantiated allegations, acting as an intermediary between local legal authorities and law enforcement. The Missoula Police and Prosecutor's Office pursued unfounded criminal and civil actions, using their positions to sabotage my professional standing and exert pressure through retaliatory prosecutions. Witnesses to the misconduct have faced intimidation or intervention by authorities, further hindering due process.

Time
The abusive conduct began in August 2014 and has escalated, with the most recent incidents occurring in 2025. The obstruction from POST and the latest refusal to review were documented in August 2025.

Upon request, I can provide all supporting documentation and witness contact information pertinent to the investigation.
NOTE: This matter reflects a persistent, systemic pattern of abuse and rights violations within Missoula law enforcement and affiliated agencies, tracing back to issues first documented during the 2012 federal DOJ investigation of Missoula Police practices. Despite federal scrutiny, structural failures and collusive misconduct persist, now involving broader coordination among the Missoula PD, Prosecutor's Office, YWCA, and state oversight bodies such as POST. These endemic problems have not only continued unchecked but have escalated, demonstrating entrenched resistance to reform, accountability, and proper oversight, thereby exacerbating the deprivation of constitutional rights for those targeted by these coordinated actions
